

EVIDENCE OF PARENTAGE

I am entitled to claim support for the child named below.

I ask the Court to declare that the respondent is a parent of the child:

Full name of child (last, first, middle)	Child's date of birth (day, month, year)

I claim that the respondent is a parent of the child because (check all that apply):

- The claimant and respondent were married to each other, or in a registered civil union, at the time of the child's birth.
- The marriage of the claimant and respondent ended by a Court judgment or a divorce order within 300 days before the birth of the child.
- The claimant and respondent married each other after the child was born, and the respondent said he is the father.
- The respondent has said, in writing, that he is the father of the child. (copy attached)
- The respondent is registered as the father of the child on the birth registration or Vital Statistics records. (copy attached)
- The claimant and respondent lived together as a couple when the child was born, or the child was born within 300 days of the end of the relationship. The claimant and respondent had lived together for approximately _____. (years, months)
- The claimant did not have sexual intercourse with any other man during the time 30 days before to 30 days after the date the child was conceived.
- A genetic test was done to establish parentage. It shows the respondent is a parent of the child. (copy attached)
- The respondent is not a biological parent of the child, but has acted as a parent to the child.

I believe the respondent will agree with a finding of parentage; or

I believe the respondent may dispute parentage of the child. I attach Form D and additional documents to support my claim that the respondent is (or acted as) a parent of the child.
