- 1) 2015 update of Inventory of Counselling Resources for Survivors of Sexual Abuse and Sexual Assault now available.

The Provincial Child Sexual Abuse Advisory Committee has updated the Inventory of Counselling Resources for Survivors of Sexual Abuse and Sexual Assault. The inventory can be found under the list of publications and resources at <http://www.gov.pe.ca/sss/csa> (pdf of the Inventory is also attached).

- 2) CHNET-Works Webinar: NCCDH - Learning to work differently: implementing Ontario's Social Determinants of Health Public Health Nurse Initiative, September 22

When: September 22, 2015 1:00pm-2:30pm Eastern time.

This webinar will present findings from a research study that examined the development and implementation of social determinant of health public health nurse (SDOH PHN) positions across Ontario's 36 public health agencies. These new positions were funded by the Ministry of Health and Long Term Care (Ontario) to enhance organizational capacity for action on the SDOH and health equity.

The webinar will be of interest to practitioners, managers, decision-makers and researchers interested in organizational and systems capacity for public health action on the social determinants of health and health equity.

To register, go to www.chnet-works.ca upcoming webinars section.

Presented in collaboration with the National Collaborating Centre for Determinants of Health (NCCDH).

3) CHNET-Works Webinar: CNPEA - Promising Practices Across Canada for Housing Women who are Older and Fleeing Abuse, September 24

When: September 24, 2015 1:00pm-2:00pm Eastern time.

The presentation will be in English with PowerPoint slides available in English and French.

This webinar will showcase a promising practices document created by women from a network of women- and elder-serving organizations from across Canada, all of which offer programs accessible to women who are older and fleeing violence or abuse.

Promising Practices challenges assumptions about women who are older, warns against stereotyping and reflects a lived experience, identifying what practitioners and women who are older want, to meet their unique needs.

Who should attend:

Community development, counselling, domestic violence, healthcare provider, housing/shelter, seniors services, victim support, elder abuse professionals.

To register, go to www.chnet-works.ca upcoming webinars section.

Presented in collaboration with the Canadian Network for the Prevention of Elder Abuse and Atira's Women's Resource Society.

1) Abuse & Neglect of Older Adults Research Team in the Maritimes (ANOART) Environmental Scan Survey

Abuse and neglect of older adults is a health and social problem with profound consequences that affects people from all walks of life. Research shows however that more older women are abused than older men. This may reflect the greater proportion of women among the older adult population or other factors such as ageism, sexism, lower social economic status, poorer health of older adults, and fewer personal resources.

The Maritime Provinces represent some of the highest percentage of senior population in Canada and share many other socio-economic challenges that exacerbate the growing concern about the real potential risk for increased abuse and neglect of older adults. ANOART was formed as a result.

ANOART members share a passion and commitment to the wellbeing of older adults. As part of the process of developing a research plan ANOART is conducting an Environmental Scan Survey to contribute to the knowledge about what is happening in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island on the issue of abuse of older people in general but more specifically in trying to understand the lived reality of abused older women.

Who can take part in the research study? Participants must be a resident of New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island. While anyone is welcome to complete the survey in these two provinces, the survey is targeted primarily at professionals who work with older adults in some capacity, including those who work with or for older adults who are abused.
