

The New NCCP

The new structure of the NCCP is designed to take into account the different types of coaches who contribute to the Canadian sport system and the environment or context in which they coach.

Streams:	Community Sport	Competitive Sport	Skill Instruction
Contexts:	Initiation to Sport	Introduction to Competition	For Beginners
	Ongoing Participation	Developmental Competition	For Intermediate
		High Performance	For Advanced Performers

The NCCP will provide context-relevant training geared toward the following outcomes, which will assist coaches to:

- make ethical decisions
- plan a practice
- design a basic sport program
- analyse performance
- provide support to athletes in training
- support the competitive experience
- manage a program

The NCCP provides three stages of accreditation to coaches in the context in which they are working:

- In training: Coach has begun training, however some training still to occur.
- Trained: Coach has completed all required training activities for a particular context.
- Certified: Coach has successfully completed all required evaluation activities for a particular context.

Competition-Introduction (Comp-Int)

On April 1, 2004, CAC launched Competition-Introduction, a series of multi-sport modules for coaches who train children or adolescents in basic sport skills in a fun and safe environment and who are preparing them for local and/or regional competitions. These modules will replace the old Level 1 and 2 Theory courses and are the first step toward a competency-based approach to coach education and training.

Competition-Introduction Part A and Part B training is offered through Provincial or Territorial Coaching Coordinators (P/TCCs). For more information on training schedules go to www.coach.ca/e/nccp/theory\_sched.htm. Competition-Introduction Part A and Part B training opportunities will augment sport-specific training opportunities that National Sport Federations (NSFs), in partnership with their respective Provincial Sport Organizations (PSOs), offer in this context. Some NSFs/PSOs may choose to integrate elements of Competition-Introduction Part A or Part B training into their sport-specific offerings. Check with your PSO for more information.

Coaches can become certified in the Competition-Introduction context through an evaluation process managed and coordinated by their NSF/PSO. As a minimum NCCP evaluation requirement, coaches will demonstrate, to a pre-defined standard, that they can:

- make ethical decisions,
- provide support to athletes in training, and
- demonstrate two additional coaching outcomes as designated by the NSF.

The NSF may add additional coaching outcomes to their evaluation requirements.

For more information on the evaluation process in the Competition-Introduction context, contact your national sport federation. For a list of all NSFs, go to www.coach.ca/e/partners/nsf.htm.

Amanda – Your online coach

Confused about what kind of training you need as a coach? CAC has developed an online tool, Coach Amanda, which can help you identify which context is right for you and which workshops you need to be identified as “trained” or “certified”. Check out the following website, www.coach.ca/eng/certification/nccp\_for\_coaches/context\_tool/index.cfm

Important Reminders:

- ◆ All participants wishing to attend a course must pre-register by the specified deadlines. To pre-register, contact the regional office of the sport and recreation branch nearest you.
- ◆ Courses will be offered if there is sufficient pre-paid registration received by the deadline.

Obtain your own coaching certification information at www.coach.ca.
