School Calendar

for the 2014-2015 School Year

Total number of school days: 197 Total number of instructional days: 181

The new school calendar includes additional professional learning days that will contribute to improvements in student achievement. High quality learning is about high quality teaching.

While increasing professional learning opportunities, we are also protecting instructional time. Students and parents will see no change in the number of instructional days.

Students and parents will see fewer short weeks, so there will be less disruption in learning.
