i) Investment subject to significant influence

The company has elected to use the cost method to account for its investment in Slemon Park Corporation. Slemon Park Corporation is subject to significant influence and would otherwise be accounted for using the equity method of accounting. Details of the investment is as follows:

Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

March 31, 2004

d) Due from the Province of Prince Edward Island

i) Current operations

Operating grant – Province of Prince Edward Island is the balance due (to) from the Province for grants (in excess of) or less than expenditures in the current year.

Excess revenue for the 2003 year for the parent company, Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc., was recorded as a reduction in deficit and was not required to be returned to the province as a component of current operations.

ii) Allowance for possible credit losses

The annual funded allowance for possible credit losses (expense or recovery) is recorded as an amount “Due from the Province of Prince Edward Island – Allowance for Possible Credit Losses”. The “Due from the Province of Prince Edward Island – Allowance for Possible Credit Losses” is reduced when a write-off is recognized by both Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc. and the Province, with notes payable reduced correspondingly. The allowance for possible losses is also reduced by any payment received from the Province on the allowance for possible losses for guarantees. During the year, Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc. recorded an allowance and corresponding expense of $1,578,987 (2003 – $1,205,996). The transfer to current operations for concessionary investments and property holdings of nil (2003 – $5,419,061) reduced the allowance for possible losses and corresponding notes payable.

e) Loans receivable

Working capital demand loans and craft loans are recorded at cost less an allowance for possible losses. These loans are due on demand and bear interest at rates ranging from 4% to 9.5% and are repayable within the next fiscal year.

Long-term loans are recorded at cost less an allowance for possible losses. These loans are issued at long-term interest rates and are repayable over various terms to a maximum of 12 years with interest rates ranging from 4% to 9.25%.

An impaired loan is where, in management’s opinion, there is no longer reasonable assurance as to the timely collection of the full amount of principal and interest.

f) Allowance for possible losses

An allowance for possible losses is maintained which is considered adequate to absorb all credit and investment related losses and off-balance sheet items including guarantees. The allowance is deducted from the applicable asset on the balance sheet, except for guarantees. The allowance for guarantees is included in accounts payable for Entrepreneurial Loan Program guarantees and as “Provision for payment of guarantees” on the balance sheet for the remaining guarantee allowance.

The allowance consists of specific and general provisions.

Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

March 31, 2004

Specific provisions include the accumulated allowances for losses on particular assets required to reduce the book values to estimated realizable amounts. Specific provisions total $2,594,385 (2003 – $1,197,514). The accumulated allowances for losses on specific off-balance sheet items at March 31, 2004 total $1,665,551 (2003 – $1,764,410). Of this total, $168,084 (2003 - $200,000) is included in the accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and $1,497,467 (2003 – $1,564,410) is recorded as provision for payment of guarantees.

The company does not accrue interest on a loan receivable once a specific provision has been recorded against the loan.

The corporation reviews its investments and advances, leased property and property holdings and guarantees on an ongoing basis to assess whether an allowance or write-off is required.

A variety of methods are used to determine the amount expected to be recovered from investments and advances to private companies and property holdings, including estimated future cash flows and the estimated fair value of the underlying security and value of any collateral security taken.

A general provision of $324,788 (2003 – $424,287) includes accumulated allowances for losses which are prudential in nature and cannot be specifically identified. The general provision is based on past performance of similar assets, the level of the specific provision, management's judgement, the economic climate and the maturity and financial strength of the investee.

g) Investment in non-marketable securities

Investment in and advances to private companies not considered to be concessionary are recorded on the balance sheet at one-half of cost less an expense of 50% to development programs, except for two preferred share investments, less an allowance for possible losses. Any recovery exceeding the balance in share investment is taken into revenue when received.

The two investments in preferred shares of private companies that are not being carried at one-half of their cost are being carried at the lower of cost and estimated realizable value.

Investments under the Venture Capital Equity Program are recorded at cost less an allowance for possible losses.

Advances – Venture Capital Debt Program are recorded at cost, less an allowance for possible losses.

Equity investments are reviewed annually for potential declines in value and are written down or an allowance is recorded if a decline in value is considered evident. Write downs are included in programs expense.

It is not practical within constraints of timeliness and cost to determine the fair value of the investment in private companies as these investments are in closely held private companies that have no organized financial market. The estimated realizable value of these investments and advances is based on expected future cash flows.

Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

March 31, 2004

h) Property holdings, property and equipment and amortization

i) Property holdings

Property holdings are reported at the lower of cost, net of government grants, and estimated realizable value.

Office furniture and equipment and computer equipment are fully expensed in the year of acquisition, except for F.T.C. Enterprises Limited and Atlantic Technology Centre Inc., a subsidiary of Technology Prince Edward Island Inc., which record these items as a capital asset at cost less accumulated amortization. The amount expensed during the year ended March 31, 2004 was $177,265 (2003 – $89,804). Land improvements and buildings in Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc. are amortized using the straight-line method at the rates of 10% and 4% respectively. Land and improvements and equipment included in industrial sites are amortized using the straight-line method at the annual rates of 8% and 20% respectively. Buildings held for resale and industrial malls are amortized using the straight-line method at the annual rates of 7% and 4%. Proceeds on the sale of industrial sites are recorded as a reduction in the carrying value of the asset. The test cells are amortized using the straight-line method at the annual rate of 4%. Signage is amortized using the straight-line method at the annual rate of 20%.

ii) Property and equipment – F.T.C. Enterprises Limited

Design and pre-construction costs incurred by the company associated with a building to be constructed were recorded as building soft costs in the 2003 year. These costs have been capitalized in the current year as part of the building under construction. Amortization of costs related to the building under construction will commence upon completion of construction.

iii) Amortization

Property and equipment are amortized using the straight-line method at annual rates ranging from 5% to 100% as indicated in note 9.

A full year's amortization is recorded in the year of acquisition.

iv) Estimated realizable value

Estimated realizable value for industrial sites is the expected proceeds on resale and for industrial malls it is the property tax assessed value.

Estimated realizable value for land, buildings and equipment held for resale under lease purchase options is its property tax assessed value.

Estimated realizable value for the test cell is the net cost to construct the asset supported by a payment under a long-term lease agreement.

The reduction from cost to estimated realizable value is recorded as a provision for possible losses.

Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

March 31, 2004

i) Net investment in leases

The company's subsidiaries accumulate costs of constructing assets, that are to be classified as capital leases, as assets under capital lease, and the related grants as deferred credits until the lease term begins. When the lease term begins, the assets under capital lease and deferred credits are removed from the balance sheet and a net investment in leases is recorded. The net investment in leases represents the minimum lease payments receivable over the term of the lease plus the purchase option.

j) Programs assistance payable

Provincially funded non-cost shared program assistance is expensed and included in accrued liabilities when approved and accepted. Federal-Provincial cost shared programs are expensed when the funds are disbursed. Infrastructure assistance requiring future performance criteria is expensed when the funds are disbursed. Certain infrastructure assistance approved and not disbursed at year end is recorded as deferred charges.

The P.E.I. Food Products Development Fund is a provincially-funded research assistance program administered by F.T.C. Enterprises Limited. Grants under the program are included in income and a corresponding expense and accrued liability is recorded when the grant is received. The accrued liability is reduced when contributions are made to projects. There is $354,249 (2003 - $178,305) in unexpended assistance included in accrued liabilities at year-end. The company has committed funds to qualifying projects in the amount of $173,205 for the 2005 fiscal year.

k) Federal programs and grants

Federal programs

Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc. administers programs on behalf of the Federal Government. Any difference between federal funding received and program expenditures is recorded as an accounts receivable or accounts payable. During the year, Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc. disbursed $495,437 (2003 – $1,256,112) under the programs. Included in accounts receivable is $97,986 (2003 – $360,367) due from the federal government relating to the 2004 programs.

Included in the development program expenditures is $293,911 (2003 – $228,841) in costs related to salary costs of Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc. employees who deliver and administer these programs. This cost recovery has been recorded as a reduction in Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc.'s operating expenditures.

Federal grants

Federal government grants received relating to operating or program expenditures are recorded as a reduction in the related expenditures in the period received. During the year, the company has recorded $448,392 (2003 – $507,120) as a reduction of development program expenditures for federal grants received.

Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

March 31, 2004

l) Pension liability

Most of the corporation's staff are members of the Province of Prince Edward Island pension plan. Pension obligations are liabilities of the Province and not the corporation and no liability for these costs has been accrued by the corporation.

m) Deferred credits

Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc. subsidiaries have adopted the policy that contributions received towards the acquisition of property and equipment will be recorded as deferred credits and amortized to earnings on the same basis as the related property and equipment are amortized. Contributions received and not spent on property and equipment at year-end are recorded as deferred contributions.

n) Revenue recognition

Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc. subsidiaries follow the percentage-of-completion method of accounting for revenue and expenditures on project contracts. The percentage-of-completion method records the organization's revenue based on the expenditures incurred and work completed on each contract in progress as at the balance sheet date. Unearned revenue is recorded as deferred revenue.

Work in progress in excess of progress billings is recorded at year end to appropriately recognize revenue under the percentage-of-completion basis of accounting when work in progress is in excess of actual billings generated. When progress billings are in excess of the related work in progress at year end the excess is recorded as progress billings in excess of work in progress.

Revenue from product royalties is recorded as received.

o) Film and new media investments

Investments made under the film and new media equity investments program are recorded as an expense under program expenditures when approved and accepted by the client. Revenue received as a recovery of those investments based on a percentage of income or under royalty agreements is recorded as revenue in the period received.

p) Interest expense

Interest paid by Prince Edward Island Business Development Inc. is included in the expenditure category to which it relates. Included in expenses is interest expense for 2004 as follows:

	2004	2003
Interest on short-term borrowings	81,303	45,122

q) Management estimates

The presentation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenditures during the reported period.

r) Estimated realizable value of financial instruments

Estimated realizable value (fair value) is subjective in nature requiring a variety of valuation techniques and assumptions. The company's financial instruments are not exchangeable and it is difficult, and often not practical, to determine their estimated realizable value. Where it is possible to estimate realizable value, the company assumes that it will not sell the assets or the liabilities, taking into account only changes in credit risk as credit risk is the main cause of change in the estimated realizable value of the company's financial instruments. Credit risk is defined as the risk that the note holder will fail to discharge an obligation in whole or in part resulting in a financial loss to this company.
